

CORONAVIRUS

by
Anne Nash

In recent months, Sutton's lost many a store
Then, due to the virus, they closed many more
Now, with everywhere closed and the shutdown complete
Our ultimate aim is this virus to beat

We must all play our part when put to the test
By obeying the rules and doing our best

And though it may cause severe frustration
There's every good reason for isolation

We know it is difficult obtaining supplies
But we must all learn to improvise

Try a new recipe, tidy a drawer
Catch up on those jobs considered a chore

We're permitted to exercise once a day
But must remain more than two metres away

And here in Sutton we have many green spaces
There's Sutton Park, Newhall and various places

This must be with family who share the same home
Or otherwise simply partaken alone

Try to find joy in the simplest of things
The emergence of flowers, the blackbird that sings

We must be determined to ride out the storm
Until we return to a semblance of norm

Perhaps this will teach us what life's all about
For it's family and friends and people that count

Value your loved ones, contact them often
So that they know they are not forgotten

So, look after each other, keep safe and take care
Stick to the guidelines and we will get there.
